

Searching for a Hashtag

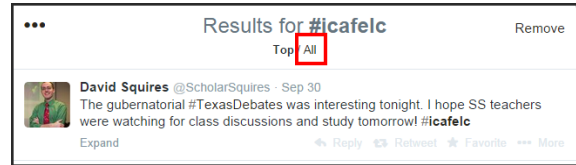

When following a Twitter chat you will want to do a search for the hashtag being used for the chat. Select the Discover option from the menu in the top left.

When the Discover page opens, search for the hashtag being used in the search box on the menu in the upper right. For example, search for “#icafelc”.

Viewing the Chat Stream

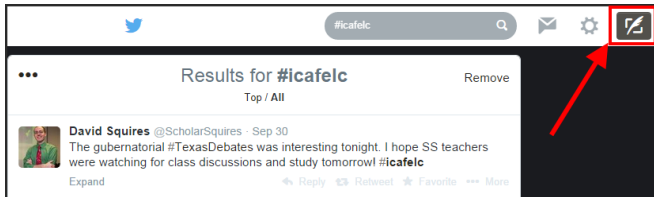

A list of tweets that include the hashtag you searched for will appear. By default it shows the Top tweets. For a chat you will want to show all tweets. Select All from the top middle.

The page will not automatically refresh with new tweets. A prompt will appear at the top that more tweets are available. Click that prompt to reload the page.

Posting a Tweet to the Chat

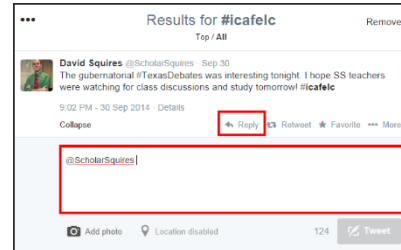

You can post a new tweet right from the Discover page so you can continue to monitor the stream. Click the quill and paper icon in the upper right of the screen.

A window will pop out. Type in your post and select Tweet. Be sure to include the hashtag that is being used for the chat so that it will appear in all the participant’s stream.

Replying and Retweeting

To reply to someone’s tweet in the chat, click the Reply option located below the tweet. A window will open below the tweet with the other person’s twitter name there for you already. Once again include the hashtag of the chat in your reply.

If you find a tweet very insightful you can retweet it. Select the Retweet option below the tweet. A window will pop out. Once again select Retweet.
